Taking a quantum leap

Beitrag von „Albert Motorsport“ vom 22. April 2022, 09:00

> Zitat von Porsche News International
>
> More and more vehicle functions are based on artificial intelligence. However, conventional processors and even graphics chips are increasingly reaching their limits when it comes to calculations required for neural networks. Porsche Engineering reports on new technologies that will speed up AI calculations in the future.

Source: https://newsroom.porsche.com/e...ical-computers-27657.html