Peter Mamerow to Become Team Principal at Albert Motorsport

January 2026: Albert Motorsport, one of Germany's most traditional Porsche racing teams, enters the new year with a clear strategic direction: starting in January 2026,

Peter Mamerow will take over as team principal.

Peter Mamerow is one of the most prominent figures in German motorsport. As a former Opel DTM driver and factory pilot in the Porsche, Volkswagen, Audi, and BMW one-make series, he brings decades of experience from factory programs and customer racing. His career is marked by technical expertise, strategic foresight, and exceptional driving precision.

Jürgen Albert, owner of Albert Motorsport:

"Peter Mamerow combines a true racing mentality, extensive factory racing experience, and outstanding technical knowledge. This combination fits perfectly with our philosophy: motorsport built on friendship and fairness, while maintaining the highest professional standards."

Peter Mamerow emphasizes the ambition of his new role:

"Albert Motorsport has stood for passion, precision, and solid Porsche craftsmanship for over five decades. The shared ethical and moral values with Jürgen Albert provide the foundation for a successful future. I am excited to take on responsibility as team principal and to lead the team to a new level of performance."

With this appointment, Albert Motorsport strengthens its position as a key player in international Porsche motorsport. The goal is to enhance the team's sporting performance while opening new opportunities for drivers and sponsors.

About Albert Motorsport:

For more than five decades, Albert Motorsport has been a recognized name in Porsche motorsport. Deep technical expertise meets genuine passion, and the team operates with responsibility, friendship, and professionalism, consistently guided by strong ethical and moral values.
