Und täglich grüßt das Murmeltier ...

Beitrag von „Albert Motorsport“ vom 5. Juni 2023, 12:53

Helloxxx,

the problem is that race cars use 18" wheels throughout. Limiting the disc dia to 380mm. This is a suboptimal dimension for cars with 20" wheels. Since there are no race cars on the way with 20" wheels, there is seemingly no market that justifies the effort of developing a high performance upgrade kit for 20" wheel cars. Current upgrade kits try to adapt components which manufacturers have in stock - with unsatisfactory result. Below a quick specification of the "real thing" high performance upgrade kit for 20" wheel cars:

Kind regards,
xxxx